AKINS MORE THAN 300 VOTES BEHIND PARTY IN COUNTY

Paar and Siemers, Lauded By The Tribune, Ran Away With Man Paper opposed.

OLIVER, PICKED TO WIN, RAN GOOD RACE

Bridges, New Legislator Says He's Going To Deliver The Goods

Judge William Paar and G. F. Siemers led the Republican ticket in Cape Girardeau County Tuesday. They have long been considered the most popular men in the county, and their showing caused no surprise.

While Judge Paar polled a few more votes than Mr. Siemers, he did not get as large majority as did the Recorder, Roloff, who opposed Mr. Siemers, did not get as many votes as Peterman, who ran against Judge Paar.

Both Paar and Siemers were endorsed by The Tribune, and they ran about 350 votes ahead of Thomas J. Akins, the candidate for United States Senator, who was opposed by this newspaper. Akins' poor showing was attributed to the fight made on him by The Tribune. He was branded as unfit for office by newspapers in every county, and according to unofficial returns, William J. Stone defeated him by more than 50,000 votes.

Charles C. Oliver, who was picked to win by Democrats and many Republicans, and was endorsed by The Tribune ran about 200 votes ahead of Congressman Russell who received more votes than the Democratic county ticket.

Capt. Harry W. Bridges, whom it was believed would be defeated because of his lack of acquaintances in the interior of the county, won by less than 200 votes. Capt. Bridges has always been popular in this city and was only recently elected Secretary of the Elks' club.

He informed The Tribune last night that he was going to establish a record in the Legislature. "I am going to vote for what the people want," he said, "and I am going to work hard for every good measure. Southeast Missouri has been overlooked by the Legislature, and if hard work and persistence can remedy the situation, I am going to do it."

"It is unnecessary to say that I am gratified over the outcome of the election. I was opposed by a very popular man and a fine gentleman. While I have been somewhat disappointed over the comparatively small majority I received, my political friends are pleased with my showing. Mr. Oliver carried the county two years ago by a good majority and the Republican vote was about the same as that cast Tuesday."

The New County Court is composed of William Paar, as Presiding Judge, and G. Jacob Keller and Philip C. Kasten, association. This is regarded as one of the best county courts ever elected in Cape Girardeau County. Each one of the judges was popular and won easily. Blucher Sperling, a splendid man, is the new clerk of the county court.

J. Henry Caruthers, who made an excellent Prosecuting Attorney, was re-elected by a big majority. Frank Caldwell won easily over Henry Gaines and Masters defeated Williams. Overheide was elected Public Administrator over Medley, the banker.

Edward D. Hays, who was picked by The Tribune to defeat Julien Miller without much of a contest, came up to expectations. He swept the county. Judge Hays, who has been presiding over the Probate Court, made the campaign on his record.

GLOBE-DEMOCRAT CONCEDES DEFEAT OF TOM J. BROWN

Says Congressman Joseph J. Russell is Re-elected by About 6 Majority.

IS LEADING OPPONENT BY MORE THAN 1300

Stone and Taney Counties, With Normal G. O. P. Majority of 700, Not Heard From.

Congressman Joseph J. Russell has been re-elected over Thomas J. Brown by probably 600 votes. This is the substance of a story that appears today in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Globe-Democrat, which is the most accurate newspaper in Missouri in its reports on election returns, last night sent a telegram to The Tribune, stating that Brown had been defeated.

"With the returns from Stone and Taney counties still missing Russell is leading Brown by 1,332 votes," says the Globe-Democrat dispatch. "These two counties gave the Republican Congressional candidate a majority of 700 votes two years ago, and about that number in 1910, when Republican strength was normal."

"The complete vote cast in Ozark and Douglas has not been received, but returns to date show that Brown is not polling the full party strength. Present indications are that Russell has been re-elected by probably 600 votes, although the official count may cut this figure down slightly."

The above figures coincide with the reports that Congressman Russell has received. Dr. R. F. Wichterich, a brother-in-law of Mr. Russell, last night received a message from the Congressman, stating that he had been re-elected by more than 500 votes.

"According to the reports that Mr. Russell has received," said Dr. Wichterich, "Douglas County, which usually goes 1100 Republican, gave Brown only 750, and Howell, with a normal Republican majority of 400, was carried by Mr. Brown by only 100."

"Christian County gave Russell 100 more votes than first returns showed. He carried Mississippi, Stoddard, Scott, New Madrid, Pemiscot and Dunklin by 4,200. Unless all of the figures are wrong, he has carried the district by a safe majority."

"The Progressive vote was virtually nothing, and the men who formerly voted the Bull Moose ticket have returned to the Republican party. But in view of the Democratic slump elsewhere, we feel well satisfied with Mr. Russell's showing. Owing to the fact that Congress was in session so long, he was kept out of the campaign. He was in his district hardly a week before the election."

POST OFFICE THIEVES AT STE. GENEVIVE

Robbers Enter Office At Night And Steal Postage Stamps.

The post office at Ste. Genevieve was entered by robbers Tuesday night, and a number of postage stamps and other valuable articles were stolen.

The robbery was not discovered until early yesterday morning when Postmaster Andrew J. Seibert, arrived from his home to open the doors for the day's business.

When he entered the building he found the interior in a state of confusion. Drawers had been pulled out and the contents scattered over the floor. The safe had been tampered with but no attempt had been made to blow it open. The stamp drawer had been robbed of several dollars worth of one cent and ten cent denominations. A valuable 12-gauge double barreled shotgun had also been stolen.

Closer investigation showed that the robbers had effected entrance to the building by prying a window open.

A considerable amount of merchandise is also believed to have been stolen from the store which is operated in the same building with the post office.

The officers have no definite clue upon which to base a suspicion, but it is generally believed that the burglary was committed by some of the hardened element that make their way down the river every year at about this time, several of whom have been seen loitering around the business section of the town for the past few days.

The postmaster, Mr. Seibert, is a son-in-law of Major James F. Brooks of this city.

FARM SCENE IN WINDOW

Stehr Store Makes Hit With Unique Halloween Display.

The tasteful arrangement and pictorial design of the large window display of the Stehr Mercantile Co., in Haarg, exhibited as a reminder of the approach of Halloween, has for the past few days been a center of attraction for the throngs of pedestrians and shoppers in that section of the city.

This bucolic display has been a hit and no one passed without stopping for a few moments to view the home-made farm scene.

Great staring eyes and leering features peering from behind shocks of fodder greet the spectator from every angle. Brush piles and dark woods form the back ground, and are displayed in realistic fashion.

ROOSEVELT FROM THE BIBLE ON ELECTION

New York, Nov. 4.—When Theodore Roosevelt was asked for an expression of opinion in New York State, he said: "In the Episcopal Church lessons taken from the Bible are appointed for every day of the year. The lesson for Nov. 3 includes the second Epistle of Paul to Timothy, Chapter iv, 3, 4, which read as follows:

"For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine. But fater their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers having itching ears, and they shall turn away their ears from the truth and shall be turned unto fables."

"I have nothing to add to this at present. After all the returns are in, I may have something more to say."

STEER STABLE AND HAY ARE BURNED

Building Damaged $2,000 With Only Half Amount Insurance On it.

The livery stable of John Steeg, at 110 North Spanish street was seriously damaged by fire yesterday afternoon, and for a time was threatened with complete destruction.

The blaze was discovered at about 4 o'clock and when first noticed by passersby, great volumes of smoke were rolling out the windows of the upper part of the building and the entire interior was lighted up by the flames.

When the fire department arrived the windows were falling out and burning fragments of the floor were dropping down into the lower part of the barn.

All vehicles were drawn out of the burning building and taken to places of safety. There was but one horse in the barn when the fire occurred, and when an attempt was made to lead him through the front to the street, he became excited and unmanageable, and it finally became necessary to lead him out the back way and through an alley around the building.

The firemen reached the scene exactly eight minutes after the alarm was turned in, and when they arrived the fire had made such headway that it hardly seemed possible to save the building. The flames had broken through the roof in places and were darting out every window. With the aid of ladders, the firemen succeeded in playing directly on the burning mass of hay and straw that had been stored in the loft, but the smoke was so dense that Fireman Bruening was almost overcome and was compelled to drop the hose in order to avoid asphyxiation. He was promptly relieved and in a few moments was back at his post of duty. It required almost two hours to subdue the flames, and when they were finally extinguished, the entire upper story was in ruins.

About 400 hundred bales of hay and straw were destroyed, the floor was badly burned, and the metal roof was completely ruined.

Mr. Steeg, who operates the business, estimates his loss at about $200, and he carried no insurance.

The building which is owned by Mayor F. A. Kage, was insured for $1,000 and the damage is estimated to be almost twice that amount.

Lafayette Yoncey and John Nuckles, two employees, were in the rear of the stable doing some work when the fire was discovered, and knew nothing of its existence until they saw fagots dropping on the floor from above.

Mr. Yancey stated that there had been no one in the loft during the entire afternoon, and he is of the opinion that the fire originated from defective wiring.

Mayor Kage in speaking of the disaster made the following statement to a Tribune representative:

"This same building was destroyed by fire in 1884 or 1885, and I continued to operate my business in the two large sheds adjoining, and I suppose that Mr. Steeg will do the same until the necessary repairs can be made."

"I have always carried an insurance of $2,000 on the property, but reduced it to $1,000 a short time ago on account of the exorbitant insurance rate."

The building will be overhauled and reconstructed as quickly as possible.

A. B. Yount of Jackson, visited relatives in this city yesterday.

ALL ILLINOIS STOCK YARDS MUST CLOSE

East St. Louis is Affected By Order Caused By Mouth Disease.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—The order closing the Chicago stockyards was this afternoon extended to cover all yards and pens in the state. This will close the large yards in East St. Louis.

The closing of the stockyards will last nine days, beginning Saturday.

The foot and mouth disease has broken out in the luxurious stalls outside of Chicago stockyards, where 11,000 fancy cattle, gathered from Canada and 28 states of the Union, are quarantined.

Eighteen cases were found among the fine cattle today, according to B. J. Shanley, chairman of the Illinois Livestock Commission. Infection of the others is feared. Six hundred common cattle were killed inside the yards today and laborers were at work on the long trenches in which the carcasses will be covered with quicklime, the bovine aristocrats with their plebeian brothers.

Then fancy stock was brought here as exhibits at the National Dairy Show. The exhibitors, who organized this afternoon to protect their interests, said the pedigree value of the herd was $2,500,000. The state, it is stated, will pay them only the value of slain animals as meat, entailing a heavy loss to the owners. The exhibitors almost avoided the quarantine last Saturday but 44 cars ordered to remove the stock did not appear and the herd was caught.

The National Livestock Exhibition, the largest livestock show in the world and an annual event which called thousands of visitor and exhibitors to the city, probably will be formally called off this year. It was set for Nov. 28.

The formal notice of the closing of the Chicago yards is signed by the Illinois Board of Livestock Commissioners, and reads as follows:

"To prevent the spread of the foot and mouth disease in cattle, other ruminants and swine, notice is hereby given that the Union Stockyards at Chicago will be closed to the receipts of cattle, sheep, other ruminants and swine from Nov. 7 to 15, inclusive."

Receipts of cattle, hogs and sheep here today were 53,000 head, or 13,000 less than those on Thursday a week ago. The decrease was mostly in hogs and sheep.

Beginning Saturday, the first business day on which the yards will be closed, there will be no market quotations until the embargo is lifted.

The drastic measure taken to check the foot and mouth disease epidemic in six states will mean the loss of millions of dollars, and cause thousands of employees to be idle in Chicago.

The Chicago stockyards do a packing business of $4,000,000 a day. Added to this is a bi-product and cattle shipment business of $1,200,000 a day. The yards have been in continual operation for 50 years, even during violent strikes.

CATTLE QUARANTINE IS EXTENDED INTO EAST

Washington, Nov. 4.—The Department of Agriculture this afternoon extended the quarantine on cattle shipments to New York and Maryland, because of the spread of the "foot and mouth" disease. It announced also that 600 case of the disease had been found in the Chicago stock yards.
